8TH ANNUAL AMERICAN BUSINESS AWARDS<sup>SM</sup>

Landover, MD, June 22, 2010 – HeiTech Services, Inc., today announced that Co-Founder and Executive Vice President James R. Clement (Jim Clement) won a Stevie® Award for Executive of the Year – in the Services category for companies with up to 2,500 employees – in The 2010 American Business Awards.

The awards were presented during ceremonies at the Marriott Marquis Hotel in New York City. The ceremonies were hosted by Cheryl Casone of Fox Business Network and broadcast nationwide on radio by the Business TalkRadio Network.

Clement joined several prominent, successful business persons in achieving the prestigious award. Some who also prevailed in their respective categories and are notable Stevie® Award winners include Apple CEO Steve Jobs, Oracle CEO Lawrence Ellison, Hormel Foods Corporation Chairman of the Board, President & CEO Jeffrey Ettinger and National Hockey League (NHL) Chief Operating Officer John Collins.

“I am honored to be named the Stevie® Award winner in the Executive of the Year category for the 2010 American Business Awards,” states Jim Clement. “In 1999, HeiTech Services was founded to honor the commitment of excellent and innovative service to our customers. This incredible recognition is a testament to my success in delivering on that promise.”

As Executive Vice President, Jim Clement leads HeiTech Services’ strategic growth efforts and manages the corporate support operations. Clement’s strong work ethic and desire to move the business to new heights has been a major driving force in the company’s recent explosive growth. Under his leadership, the company has implemented outstanding customer solutions, been responsive to contracting needs, and recruited the best and brightest professionals to staff its projects, leading to the company’s exponential growth in terms of employee count, revenue, corporate office space and regional presence.

Stevie Awards were presented in over 40 categories including Best Overall Company of the Year, Executive of the Year, and Corporate Social Responsibility Program of the Year. More than 2,700 entries from organizations of all sizes and in virtually every industry were submitted for consideration. More than 200 executives across the country participated in the judging process to determine the Finalists and Stevie Award winners.

The Stevie has become one of the world’s most coveted awards for businesses and organizations alike. The name of the award, Stevie, was taken from the name Stephen, which is derived from the Greek for “crowned.” The 16 inch tall award is hand-cast and finished in 24-karat gold. Stevie holds a crystal pyramid high up representing psychologist Abraham Maslow’s hierarchy of human needs, stating that after their basic needs are met, human beings seek the esteem of their peers.

“I couldn’t be more pleased to accept the Stevie® Award for Executive of the Year on behalf of the HeiTech Services team,” Clement said. “Although this achievement may be portrayed as an individual award, it truly represents a team effort. The award would not be possible without the dedication and hard work of our employees.”

In addition to Jim Clement’s Stevie® Award, HeiTech Services, Inc. was a finalist in the Best Overall Company of the Year – All Services category for companies with up to 2,500 employees.
